

Natural Stone countertops are a lovely addition to any home. Its beauty and durability make it a sensible and timeless choice for kitchen countertops.

Granite colors and patterns are unique. Certain types of stone are more likely to have outs and fissures. Since the products are mined from large quarries world wide, there will be variations in each slab.

It is common practice for each homeowner to choose the exact stones, which will be used in their home. Slabs are held at various stone holding companies in the Twin Cities Metro Area and inspected prior to shipment to the granite fabricator.

Please be advised that there is no warranty on Granite. If the homeowner elects not to hand pick their granite slab, Imperial Counters can not be held responsible in deviations in the actual tops compared to the sample at the selection center.
